As The University of Alabama competes for students, funding and donations, the strength of our marketing communications is increasingly important. One of the basic components of a strong, institutional marketing-communications effort is a unified graphic identity.

The University of Alabama word mark carries dual responsibilities: It must stand as the sum of the institution’s many parts — the authentic, recognizable essence of this University — while simultaneously symbolizing our potential. For the many people who already know and love UA, the word mark must ring true. For audiences now in cultivation and to be approached in the future, the mark must dispel myths, spark interest and remain in each viewer’s awareness, uniquely and accurately.

These principles have shaped the creation of this visual identity guide. By complying with its specifications, you help project a clear, unifying image for the University as a whole. The visual identity program also highlights each college or division of the University, without sacrificing the unit’s individuality.

The guidelines in this manual enable us to implement the visual identity in a range of applications, thus enhancing all of our University communications. Please support the program by applying these guidelines consistently.
Who We Are
In its efforts to pursue excellence in instruction, research and service, The University of Alabama produces graduates who become leaders in their fields, from the arts and humanities to science and business. UA competes successfully on the academic stage both nationally and internationally and seeks to be the academic community of choice for students from Alabama and around the globe who are seeking exceptional educational opportunities.

Capstone Values
Teaching: The University of Alabama is dedicated to employing outstanding faculty and staff who can instruct and mentor students at the highest level, providing countless chances for students to further their education in a variety of ways.

Research: By recruiting leaders from every academic field to join its top-tier faculty, The University of Alabama is focused on ensuring students are provided the opportunity to participate in groundbreaking research projects as part of their academic training.

Service: While The University of Alabama seeks to provide an educational community for its students, faculty and staff, it also seeks to enhance quality of life for people around the state, nation and world by providing various opportunities for advocacy, service and relief work.

The UA Brand
To keep UA at the forefront of 21st-century higher education and to maintain a strong and positive image, it’s important to have defined and unified branding standards to which the Alabama family conforms. Forbes magazine’s Jerry McLaughlin defines “branding” as “everything the public thinks it knows about your name brand offering—both factual and emotional. Your brand name exists objectively; people can see it. It’s fixed. But your brand exists only in someone’s mind.” The University of Alabama is more than a logo or a word mark; it is everything one thinks about the brand. And brand standards uphold, enhance and positively project The University of Alabama name and reputation.

The University of Alabama brand, in that sense, is a compilation of everything we say and do, what we broadcast to the world, and the connections we form with our constituents, including prospective and current students, faculty and staff, parents, alumni, friends and stakeholders.

The History of Our Brand
As the state’s oldest public university, The University of Alabama cherishes a rich and storied history that has propelled us into a future where our institution is respected on a wide scale. Founded in 1831, The University of Alabama was created as a “seminary of learning” for the newly formed state. By 1871, enrollment was 75 students: by 1901, nearly 400. Now, more than a century later, UA enrolls more than 36,000 students, the largest student body in University history. UA President Dr. George Denny first called UA “the Capstone” in 1913, just one year after the beginning of his 24-year tenure at the University. “Capstone” means the top stone or the highest point, and throughout its exponential growth over the decades, The University of Alabama has continuously sought to achieve its highest point yet and remains dedicated to the pursuit of excellence.
Key Attributes of Our Brand

1. A commitment to excellence: The University of Alabama strives to create the best possible environment for learning by providing opportunities for engagement with accomplished faculty and staff as well as world-class research, service and athletic opportunities.

2. A student-oriented focus: UA continuously seeks to develop a creative, nurturing environment where students are free to explore interests, experience both challenges and triumphs, and ultimately achieve their highest aspirations.

3. An interest in tradition: As the flagship university of Alabama, UA is committed to honoring its shared history with the state and its emotional resonance with its citizens, as well as its record of bringing success of all kinds to the region. Time-honored tradition is valued, not for tradition’s sake, but to cherish and uphold the values that are good and right, that sustain us, give us purpose and that seek the best in everyone and in everything we do.

4. A desire for growth: The University of Alabama is committed to continuous growth in all areas, from enrollment to campus size to scholarship funding to levels of excellence and more, in an effort to increase the opportunities provided to all associated with UA.

5. An exciting future: The future of UA is bright as our students, alumni and other constituents continue to make positive differences in the world using the friends made, lessons learned and skills acquired at The University of Alabama.

Why Branding Is Important

UA is a dynamic institution made up of many parts, each one working to accomplish its own individual goals in an effort to further the broader University of Alabama mission of both unique and exemplary educational opportunities and developing exceptional and successful alumni. While our athletic brand is widely recognized in the world of collegiate sports, UA as a whole is comprised of many more departments, institutions, groups and constituencies. Promoting consistency for the University brand has a dual purpose: It unifies the UA family, setting us all on a shared path of helping the Capstone achieve excellence, and ensures people everywhere associate the Alabama name with strength and distinction.

4.0 Resources
Having a strong University-wide identity adds to each unit’s value while reinforcing the overall value of The University of Alabama as a whole.

Through our new visual identity program, all portions of our diverse community can convey a clear, powerful identity. When our communications present a unified visual appearance, they establish an immediate connection between the message and the University. The new visual identity program offers many new design solutions that allow for flexibility and versatility within each college, school, division, department or program.

All UA word marks and logos should carry the appropriate registration mark.

THE UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA®
1.1 Primary Versions

The University of Alabama Word Mark System

The University of Alabama word mark comes in three primary versions, each of which has been created using type kerned to specific proportional measurements. To ensure that all of our uses of these marks will be consistent in quality, do not attempt to recreate them, to use photocopies or scans from this guide, or to manipulate or change the marks in any way.

The horizontal primary word mark is a flexible yet solid tool that works well in many publication applications and is an excellent choice for merchandise and equipment.
1.2 Secondary Versions

A vertical stacked version of the word mark may be used when needed. These versions cannot be modified in any way, including adding additional wording underneath. Please see page 7 for spacing limitations.

Download logos at http://visualid.ua.edu.
1.3 Application Guidelines: Area of Isolation and Minimum Size

The University of Alabama's official logo is a word mark that features the words “The University of Alabama” in a specific font.

The space around the word mark or logo must be at least one-half the height of the tallest letter.

Shown here are examples of how the word mark system should be used in relation to other objects on the page. This is to prevent competing elements that might take away from the strong brand associated with these systems.
1.4 Incorrect Uses

Examples of what NOT to do when using our word mark system: Do NOT manipulate the word mark in any way. You should not try to type it in a different font, space it out, place a drop shadow behind it, stretch it, put it on a distracting background, use a low-resolution version or web version on print (pixelated), put anything around it, make any of the words or letters larger or smaller than the rest of the word mark, tilt it or use it with another symbol incorporated. Logo must always be accompanied by ®.
1.5 Identifiers

The Alabama word mark system allows for individual recognition of all colleges and departments without sacrificing the brand established in the primary system.

You have a choice of using the “Official UA Word Mark” with Identifier or the “Capstone A” with Identifier on all communications pieces (print, video, web, etc.).

If the “Capstone A” with Identifier is used externally, it must be accompanied by The University of Alabama nameplate somewhere on the page. See page 11 for further instruction.

Sample Identifiers

Download logos at http://visualid.ua.edu.
1.6 Department Identifiers

To ensure your school is represented, the Alabama word mark system allows for individual recognition of all colleges and departments without sacrificing the brand established in the primary system.

You have a choice of using the “Official UA with Word Mark” with Department Identifier or the “Capstone A” with Department Identifier on all communications pieces (print, video, web, etc.).

The Capstone A is for less formal use and is more flexible.

If the “Capstone A” with Identifier is used externally, it must be accompanied by The University of Alabama nameplate somewhere on the page. See page 11 for further instruction.

Sample Identifiers

Download logos at http://visualid.ua.edu.
1.7 Department Identifiers: “Capstone A”

Shown here are examples of how the “Capstone A” should be used in relation to other objects on the page. This is to prevent competing elements that might take away from the strong brand associated with these systems.

If the “Capstone A” with Identifier is used externally, it must be accompanied by The University of Alabama nameplate somewhere on the page, including within .25” of the logo. Nameplate cannot exceed 1.5x the width of the identifier.

The “Capstone A” is a registered trademark and must always be used with the circle R designation.

The Capstone A allows for more flexibility when used internally. Examples are shown at right.

Versions that exclude the unit identifier cannot be used externally.

PMS 201 Crimson
Silver
Gold

The use of the gold seal is limited to special documents only and requires approval.

1.9 Usage of Individual College and Departmental Logos/Seals

Individual colleges' logo/seal should be used as secondary to the Official or Capstone A logo specifically made for your college to keep uniformity.

Your individual logo/seal can be used as a “bug” in the top or bottom right or left corner of a printed or web piece.

Your individual logo/seal cannot be displayed larger than the school/department logo.
Our colors, fonts and structure should all be unique to our brand — and should be consistent across all channels.

When our students, alumni and friends see a consistent presence from our brand, it reinforces our unique position in their minds. By knowing what they can expect from our brand, they will begin to assign a higher value and trust in UA. A consistent, unified brand identity has many benefits.
2.1 Introduction to Typography

Typography is important in communication. The University of Alabama strives to maintain a standard in how we manage and maintain our brand image through type.

Shown here are examples of the two types of fonts: serif and sans serif, as well as examples of equal point size to visualize how type in different styles and shapes can work together.

2.4 Color

Official colors for UA are the following:
Crimson PMS 201
Cool Gray PMS 430
White

The following accent colors may be used, but they must never dominate UA's official colors.
3.0 Applications

Banners, certificates, exhibits, letters, products, publications and signage convey information; just as importantly, they help create our institutional image. By unifying all of our communications under an immediately recognizable system, we communicate more effectively, both internally and externally.

Please follow the guidelines as you develop communications and materials for your unit; by doing so, you will officially identify your unit as part of the University and increase brand identity with your audience.

3.21 Stylized A with Serif Guidelines

The University of Alabama Trademark Licensing and University Relations Offices have come together to establish guidelines for the use of the Stylized “A” with Serif mark to effectively and efficiently help all University entities understand, and put into practice, a set of standards that best help the University manage the consistency of its brand.

To learn more about the usage of the Stylized A, please contact Cole Price at 205-348-9691 or download the guidelines at http://www.rolltide.com/licensing/campus-departments.html

Colors

Only colors below will be permitted for inside the “A,” outline of the “A,” and background.
- Crimson – PMS 201C, Silver – PMS 428 or PMS 430, White, and Black

Any other colors desired to be used require prior approval.

Outlining the Script A is permitted based on correct sizing and rule.

Spacing

There needs to be ¼ inch of clear space surrounding all sides of the “A” for all uses. The “A” cannot be used within the middle or at the end of any words. The “A” can be used as the first letter in words.
- ¼ inch spacing still applies

The “A” must be to the left or above any departmental or organizational verbiage.
- It cannot be used to the right or below any verbiage

Modifications

There are no modifications allowed to the “A,” including but not limited to use within:
- Print: Beveling, Shadowing, Ghosting
- Digital version
- 3D version

No overlaying anything on top of the “A”
- The “A” cannot be on top of any other words or designs

The “A” cannot be combined with any other logos to make a new logo.

Any shading, internal or external, requires prior approval.

No verbiage or designs can be used within the “A”.

The “A” can be used within a single circle or square.
- If the “A” is used in a square, the Capstone A must be used.
- Circle with band around outside is reserved for Athletics only.
- Any uses of the “A” inside other shapes requires prior approval.

Promotional Products

If the “A”, alone or within the Capstone mark, is used on promotional products, it must be accompanied by the department or organization name.

The “A” cannot be used in conjunction with any third-party logos for any products for sale.

A licensee must be used for all orders that include University indicia, where appropriate.
- If a licensee cannot be found, then a one-time approval will be available if project/product is approved.

The “A” is a federally registered mark of The University of Alabama, and requires a circle R designation next to it for all uses.
- Permanent Structures are not included, which pertains to:
  - External branding of buildings on campus
  - Branded signage for buildings, directional signage
  - Other considerations will require prior approval
